

UNITED NATIONS
LESOTHO

CLIMATE CHANGE

Consequent to the capacity building initiatives on reducing vulnerability from climate change, including training and support to food processing and preservation, citizens of Khoelenya Council in the Mohale's Hoek district show case their products

As its objective is to assist communities in Mohale's Hoek to adapt to prevailing climate change risks, the GEF financed project RVCC implemented by UNDP & Government of Lesotho, capacitated women with beekeeping

To enhance the livelihoods of vulnerable groups, such as women headed household and in recognition of outstanding performance in sustainable range resources management efforts by local communities, UNDP/GEF Small Grants Programme in partnership with the Transformation Resource Centre provided rams to ten farmers the majority being widows, in Malubalube Mokhotlong